Improvement in Practice (Formerly Silver Level IQT) for Pharmacy

Thursday 28 April and
Thursday 19 May 2022

Both workshops will be delivered virtually

Health Education and Improvement Wales working in partnership with Improvement Cymru have developed a unique QI Training programme for both doctors in training and trainers, to provide high quality training in the principles of QI and access to QI training resources to support innovation and excellence in healthcare.

The programme includes:

- High quality QI training through the use of interactive workshops on the methodology and framework that underpins Quality Improvement.
- Access to training resources and educational support for the development of innovative QI projects developed by specialty trainees and trainers undertaking their own projects.

Delegates have the opportunity to develop their own QI project as part of the workshop, working in small groups to gain valuable hands on practical guidance.

The workshops are free to attend. Places are limited and early registration is advised.

Bronze IQT Accreditation should be completed via an e-learning package prior to attending the workshop. This can be accessed at <https://iqt.wales.nhs.uk>

Alternatively, if you have any questions, please contact a member of the QIST team by e-mail at HEIW.QIST@wales.nhs.uk

Attendance at both days of the workshop and submission of a successfully completed project results in the award of Improvement in Practice Accreditation.
